25,000 PERISHED IN ITALIAN DISASTER

CALAMITY APPALLS NATION; SCORES OF CITIES LEVELED

Death Toll Grows Hourly, as the Rescuers Reach Stricken Districts; Latest Estimates Placed at 25,000 to 50,000 Dead and Injured

LONDON, Jan. 15. (Friday) According to the Rome Tribune, it is estimated that the victims of the earthquake number between 23,000 and 25,000.

ROME, Jan. 14. The toll of dead and injured in the great earthquake that has swept over central and southern Italy has not yet been made up, but all advices reaching Rome indicate the ever-growing extent of the disaster.

Towns with thousands of inhabitants have been overthrown and from some of these come details which show an immense loss of life. The estimates ran tonight from 25,000 to 50,000 dead and injured, and yet there are several sections which undoubtedly felt the earthquake in full measure from which no estimate can be obtained.

In the ancient territory of Marsi, which includes Avezzano, the victims are placed at 20,000. Only a small minority is left of the inhabitants of Avezzano, who numbered approximately 10,000. Fifteen other towns and villages in that section have been laid waste. King Victor Emmanuel is on the scene at Avezzano and 30,000 soldiers have been dispatched to the various centers where the force of the disturbance was greatest.

GERMANS DEFEAT ALLIES IN GREAT BATTLE ON THE AISNE

Kaiser Directs Operations at Critical Point; Several Thousand French Captured; 18 Russian Generals Discharged

LONDON, Jan. 14. A reverse of the allies along the river Aisne in the neighborhood of Soissons is admitted in the latest French official statement, although the possible effect of the German advance is officially minimized.

After continuous engagements, which lasted nearly two days, the Germans forced the French to yield in front of Aisne, to the east of Crouy. It is explained that the French war office that the flooding of the river Aisne destroyed several of the bridges and thus rendered precarious the communication of the troops operating on the right bank. The troops were withdrawn, as it was thought impossible to send reinforcements to their support.

The success of a partial retreat on the part of the French is admitted, but it is stated that the French war office has not yet received the full details of the operations. ## French Deputy Stirs Parliament by Bitter Speech

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Speeches must give way to the voice of the cannon. The country is not with you, there is nothing for parliament to do but to keep still when France is invaded.

With these words M. Delahaye in the senate today, demanded the postponement of all discussion of the war situation. His speech caused a stir and protests on the part of several members.

Premier Viviani expressed regret that such language had been used, but some of M. Delahaye's colleagues upheld him.

After a brief but lively debate, the motion for a postponement was defeated.

FEDERAL STRIKE MEDIATORS WORKING ON OHIO CASE

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 14.—The federal mediators in the strike of the miners in the eastern Ohio coal fields heard the opening arguments of the operators today and will leave tomorrow for Columbus, O., to take up the matter with the miners. A committee of seven operators headed by W. R. Woodford, president of the Pittsburgh Vein Operators Association of Ohio were cloistered with the conciliators all day.

Several companies announced that their mines had been cleaned up ready for operation and extended an invitation to their former workmen to return to work at the old rate. Representatives of the miners declared that no union men were working in the mine at present, where the operators claim that 150 men are at work. Miners say the men are office employees and caretakers.

HOUSE APPROPRIATION BILL BITTERLY ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Attacks upon the $34,000,000 river and harbor appropriation bill began this morning as soon as the measure was taken up for detailed consideration. Representative Fear of Wisconsin led the attack on the bill by proposing amendment after amendment. All were promptly defeated, however. Among his proposals was one to place river and harbor appropriations under the authority of a general river and harbor board and to give the president authority to withdraw any appropriations made by the bill in his discretion.

DANIELS SAYS 187,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN TOO MANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Secretary Daniels today told a little boy and girl of Corvallis, Ore., telling them he was sorry he could not grant their request that the school children of Oregon be permitted to make the voyage through the Panama canal on the famous old battleship bearing their state's name. Mr. Daniels said that as the Oregon was built to carry only 900 men, it would be impossible for her to take care of the 187,000 young people.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain maligned coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust dirt dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get maligned coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

ITURBIDE RODE 600 MILES OVER DESERT IN LEAVING MEXICO

Man Who Saved the Capital From Bandits Tells of His Experiences

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Edward Iturbide, once member of the Mexican senate and later commander of the federal district, revealed here tonight the story of his sensational escape from death in Mexico, the circumstances of which, for a time, threatened to cause a serious breach between General Gutierrez and General Villa and Palafio. He said he rode nearly 600 miles through deserts and over mountains to the American border after leaving a train south of Chihuahua to avoid arrest.

The United States government took an active part in negotiations for Iturbide's safety, in appreciation of his efforts on behalf of Americans and other foreigners during the turbulent days in the Mexican capital following the abdication of Huerta. The efforts of American Consul Stillman and Leon J. Canova, special agent of the state department in his behalf, aroused the anger of General Villa and the Zapata chiefs.

Family Now Safe.

Although Iturbide has been in the United States for a week, he withheld the details of his adventures until he learned tonight that his wife and sister-in-law also were safe across the American border.

The exile, who is a great grandson of Augustin Iturbide, who proclaimed himself emperor of Mexico in 1821 and subsequently was executed, is about 36 years old, an athlete, a crack revolver shot and polo player. He was a favorite with members of the foreign colony in Mexico City and had many opportunities to leave, along with other federal officers. Remaining as head of the district government, however, even after the departure of Carranza, Huerta's successor, he transferred the executive power, in person, to General Carranza. Later he was joined by Carranza, with the understanding that he would be tried at some future date by the courts.

Kept Order in Capital.

In the exciting days following the evacuation by Carranza troops, Iturbide came to the front at the urgent request of the diplomatic corps and took command of the situation. He kept order in the city and turned it over to the Zapata commanders. He had, however, incurred the enmity of the Zapata faction because he commanded a detachment of troops which fought them in the outskirts of Mexico City during Carranza's brief administration. 100 Zapatistas having been killed in the battle.

When General Palafio, the Zapata commander, arrived, he ordered the arrest of Iturbide, who, according to Mexico City Stillman and Canova, intended and he was promised a fair trial, but he doubted the wisdom of surrendering and remained in hiding. Finally, through the efforts of the American government, General Gutierrez, as provisional president, signed an order giving Iturbide safe conduct to the United States.

Villa Orders Arrest

Canova left Mexico City on the same train with Iturbide but before they had proceeded far an order was issued by Villa for the arrest of Iturbide. At the same time a statement was given out by General Palafio, minister of agriculture in the Gutierrez cabinet, charging Stillman and Canova with accepting a bribe for their efforts in getting the fugitive out of Mexico City. This was vigorously denied by them and the charges were ignored by the state department.

I rode on that train, said Iturbide tonight. "Just one day, for I realized that the secret service men were trailing me and that an order for my arrest would come any minute." I wrote my wife and gave it to Mr. Canova and slipped off the train just south of Aguila. I then walked around aimlessly for 60 miles and finally got a horse on a ranch. For 15 days I rode disguised as a ranchman and made my way to the American border, eluding troops and police by traveling mostly at night and sleeping by day. I had left my baggage on the train and when I finally got to the Rio Grande, I was afraid to go to any of the bridges, for fear the secret service men would be waiting for me. I have always been a good swimmer, so I plunged in and swam the river. An Englishman, whose name I will not mention, met me and gave me some clothes. I was destitute when I arrived."

Last year Iturbide was worth several millions. His property has now been confiscated and his funds in Mexico City banks similarly appropriated by the different chiefs. By selling some of his property to foreigners, he saved a small sum from the wreckage.

MEAT PACKERS OPPOSE THE COLD STORAGE BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Representatives of Chicago meat packing concerns appeared today before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee in opposition to the McKellar bill to regulate the cold storage of food products. G. L. McCarthy of the National Meat Packers' association, W. H. Ferris of Morris & Co. and F. J. Gardner of Swift & Co., told the committee that so far as meat products were concerned they believed that the present system of government inspection was a sufficient protection to the consumer.

1,700,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT SOLD FOR EXPORT AT DULUTH

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 14.—Five cargoes, or around 1,700,000 bushels, of spring wheat have been sold for export on the Duluth market during the last 48 hours. It started yesterday with sales of two cargoes and three more were disposed of today. Exporters were still in the market for spring wheat at the close today.

BRYAN PROTESTS TO CARRANZA AGAINST CLOSING OIL WELLS

Mexicans Preparing to Shut Down All Plants on East Coast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Secretary Bryan has sent a vigorous protest directly to the Carranza authorities at Tampico against their threat to close the great oil wells in the vicinity of Tampico, because the foreign operators refused to pay a heavy assessment levied by the Mexicans. At the same time the matter was brought to the attention of General Carranza himself.

Most of the oil plants are owned by American and British capital. From time to time lately there have been complaints against closing of the Carranza officials, reports coming directly from the state department representatives as well as through the interested foreign embassies.

The latest advice indicated that the Mexicans were preparing to temporarily shut down all the plants unless the money demanded was forthcoming. The Carranza agents here tonight made public the following telegram from Laredo:

"Gen. Luis Gutierrez wired Nuevo Laredo today from Tule, station, a few miles southeast of Tule, that the Villistas are evacuating Tule and retreating in the direction of San Luis Potosi. He reports that the Villista force that entered Tule was under the command of General Angeles and numbered only 6,000 men."

Another report given out by the agent said Gen. Maclovio Herrera had shot and killed General Solis of Villa's army when the latter with a party of disguised soldiers entered the Carranza lines in a fog and tried to assassinate General Herrera.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Jan. 14.—Gen. E. P. Navarro, Carranza commander at Matamoros, the Mexican town opposite here, tonight announced that Carranza troops which last night and today came to Matamoros from Monterey would be returned to order and that four thousands of refugees which reached Brownsville, a Mexican border town west of here, also would be returned to Monterey.

General Navarro explained that the recent troop movement from Monterey was due to lack of ammunition which he said had been replenished. He asserted there were no Villa troops along the Carranza lines between Monterey and Matamoros.

The recent order closing the Mexican end of the international bridge and ferry lines here was partly revoked tonight.

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 14.—A food shortage at Monterey is assuming serious proportions, it was announced today at Nuevo Laredo, across the border from here, by Carranza officials, who said some of the Carranza troops have returned to Monterey, which they recently evacuated.

The Monterey chamber of commerce, it was announced, was trying to get corn in wagons. Apparently there is no regular train service into that city. No trains run between Nuevo Laredo and Monterey today.

The food supply is nearly spent in Nuevo Laredo, there being no bread, flour nor corn for sale and most of the stores were closed today.

The conference of Carranza officials continued in Nuevo Laredo, but its purpose was carefully guarded.

A report that 16 filibusters had crossed into Mexico 20 miles west of here caused the Carranza commander at Nuevo Laredo to send troops to investigate.

LABOR OPPOSES "SPEEDING UP" SYSTEM IN FACTORIES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Plans for speeding the wage earners of Cuba to organize and affiliate with the American Federation of Labor were considered here today by the executive council of the federation. It was decided to lend all possible aid to the movement.

The council also determined to inaugurate an active campaign to bring all local unions in the various states into their respective state federations and to continue its efforts to secure the enactment of legislation against "speeding up" shop management systems.

ITALIAN CONSUL IN DENVER CALLS FOR QUAKE VICTIMS

Lime Combats Tuberculosis

"It is difficult to escape the conviction that lime starvation and lime assimilation are the real issues behind the masks of vulnerability and resistance in tuberculosis," writes Ira Van Gieson, M. D., in the May 11, 1912, issue of the New York "Medical Record."

Dr. Van Gieson is eminent in his profession, and his assertion that lime assimilation is the real issue in resistance to tuberculosis bears the stamp of authority.

Ordinarily lime is not easily assimilated medicinally, but Eckman's Alternative is one preparation containing it in such form and combination as to insure assimilation by the average person.

This is one reason for its success in many cases of tuberculosis which apparently have yielded to it and others which have been benefited through its use.

Our experience based faith in this remedy is shared by a large number of men and women who say they owe health strength and life to it. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs so is safe to use.

If your druggist is out of it, he can get it, or you can order direct from Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa.

BRYAN REWARDED POLITICAL FRIENDS

him told him that Russell, American minister under Taft, was not returning. He told me the witness testified, that if I was a guesser, he'd tell me the name of the next minister. It ends with an "X," he said. That Secretary Bryan at that time had a high opinion of Mr. Sullivan was evidenced by a letter placed in the record while Pulliam was testifying, by Walker W. Vick, who succeeded Pulliam as receiver general, and who, after his removal, instigated the present investigation. The letter addressed to Vick under date of August 20, 1913, was as follows:

Bryan Wanted to Reward Friends.

"Now that you have arrived and have acquainted yourself with the situation, you can let me know what positions you have at your disposal with which to reward deserving Democrats. Whenever you desire a suggestion from me in regard to a man for any place down there, call on me. "You have had enough experience in politics to know how valuable workers are when the campaign is on and how difficult it is to find suitable rewards for the deserving. I do not know to what extent a knowledge of the Spanish language is necessary for employees. Let me know what is requisite, together with the salary, and when appointments are likely to be made Sullivan will be down before long and you and he together ought to be able to bring about such reforms as may be necessary there. You will find Sullivan a strong, courageous, reliable fellow. The more I have seen of him, the better satisfied I am that he will fit into the place there and do what is necessary to be done. "Very truly yours, "W. I. BRYAN"

Warned Government of Bouk.

Pulliam further testified that he had warned Assistant Secretary of State Clegg in July 1913 under no circumstances to have anything to do with the Banco Nacional crowd, and with the Banco Nacional crowd, and had explained the character of the situation to him and that he was seeking to exploit Dominican finances. He had been told forth in detail the activities of the institution in a letter to Gen. Frank McIntyre head of the bureau of insular affairs in the war department.

"I was surprised and incensed," he said, that such a coegee got to Bryan's ears. I was sorry to see the reversion of customs made the subject of political exploitation. I recalled the instructions which Secretary Root gave me when he said that those funds should be administered as a sacred trust. For eight years the receivership had been operated without any trouble and the difficulties that later arose were unquestionably caused by Sullivan's transferring the funds to the Banco Nacional. That was what they wanted. They had no funds. They wanted to establish credit for themselves. Why nobody would accept their notes of issue except as handbills on the street. The bank was a joke."

Blamed Interests for Removal.

Pulliam said he had no doubt that the Jarvis interests were responsible for his removal. It developed, according to the testimony, that the customs funds were eventually transferred to the Micheliens bank, the National City bank of New York, and in this connection Pulliam said that on July 16 last in company with Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, he saw Secretary Bryan in Washington.

"This is what Mr. Bryan told the senator," testified the witness. "My objections to Pulliam is that he was entirely too friendly with Micheliens. I said, 'Now that your administration has been forced to put back the funds into the Micheliens bank, don't you think I have been vindicated.' He evaded the question by saying, 'It has not been officially brought to my attention that the transfer was made.' "Did Mr. Bryan appear to be embarrassed with the belief that the power behind Micheliens was the National City bank which represented to him the so-called money trust?" asked Commissioner Phelan.

"He did," replied the witness.

Jarvis Interests Piqued.

The Jarvis interests were piqued he said because the National City bank had handled a $1,500,000 loan for the government in which Micheliens acted as its agent. They had represented that the National City bank was willing to exploit the island he said. "As far as he knew, the New York situation had no other interest in Santo Domingo. "Cik took the witness stand and testified that Secretary Bryan at the recommendation of Ross Long until late head of the Latin American department, and a friend of J. G. Gray, who was a great friend of the Banco Na-

CARLSON TO KEEP OLD OFFICE FORCE

Will Hold "Cabinet" Meetings Daily; Assembly in Session Only an Hour

DENVER, Jan. 14.—The Twentieth general assembly of Colorado was in session less than an hour today and little was done aside from the reading of the journals and the introduction of a number of bills.

The senate confirmed the appointment by Governor Carlson of M. H. Aylesworth as a member of the public utilities commission. Ten minutes later Aylesworth had taken the oath of office and assumed the position succeeding A. P. Anderson.

An appropriation of $50,000 to cover legal expenses in connection with Colorado suits to secure control of water in the streams of the state for irrigation is asked in a bill introduced in the senate today by Senators Weiland and Mitten.

Other bills introduced included one by Senator W. Q. Faxon of Pueblo for improvements at the state asylum for the insane at Pueblo.

A joint meeting of the house and senate finance committees was held to begin the task of framing the short appropriation bill.

Organizes "Cabinet"

Governor Carlson today inaugurated the custom of holding a "cabinet" meeting daily at 9 o'clock. The members of the governor's cabinet are the secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and the attorney general. When important legislation is pending, the session will include Speaker Philip H. Stewart of the house of representatives and Leroy J. Williams, republican floor leader of the senate, with perhaps the chairman of committees considering the bills in question.

The introduction of the bills featuring the deliberation of the house today. Representative A. S. Anderson of Pueblo introduced a bill appropriating funds for maintenance and improvements to the state asylum for the insane at Pueblo. Representative Howland offered a measure concerning the ballot titles of initiated and referred bills.

Carlson Keeps Office Force

Announcement of his intention to cooperate with the state civil service commission as a means of securing efficient state employees was made by Governor Carlson. "I will expect the civil service commission to cooperate with me along the same lines," he said. "I have retained the old office force in my office," he added, because I knew it was efficient.

H. C. Bokinger representative-elect of the Colorado legislature, and J. O. James A. Shinn former state game and fish warden are also at the legislature, according to a telegram received today by Speaker P. H. Stewart. Heavily the house asked Secretary of State Fry to aid in the search for the two coloradoans. The senate today adopted a resolution declaring that 20 years of women suffrage in Colorado had been a success.

SMEDLEY URGES COAL MINING BY THE STATE

Would Prevent Industrial Disputes; Approves Collective Bargaining

DENVER, Jan. 14.—A minority report by former Representative Chester E. Smedley of Denver, a member of the legislative committee which conducted an investigation of the coal miners' strike, was filed in the senate and the house today.

Smedley joined in the report of the full committee which was filed Tuesday and which in the main recommended the establishment of a state industrial commission to handle disputes between capital and labor. In his supplementary report filed today, however, he makes specific recommendations for the prevention of labor controversies and the settlement of such disputes when they occur.

He urged making coal mining a public utility and the adoption of constitutional amendments authorizing the state to mine coal on state coal lands, and to fix the price of coal mined on state leased land, and also suggests that the legislature encourage the principle of collective bargaining.

Main Recommendations.

The main recommendations are as follows:

The certification of coal miners as to their fitness for underground work before being employed.

A law forbidding the employment of a miner except as an apprentice unless he holds a coal miner's certificate.

The employment of check weighmen, an arbitration committee at every mine where ten or more men are employed, one member of the committee to be selected by the employees, one by the operator and the third by the two so chosen.

Abolition of practice of coal mining companies employing deputy sheriffs as mine guards.

Consideration by the legislature of a constitutional amendment making coal mining a public utility.

Lease Forfeiture.

Consideration by the legislature of measures which will require the incorporation in all future leases of coal lands belonging to state of provisions providing for a forfeiture of the lease in case of violation of the state laws or regulations of the state authorities regarding sanitary and other working conditions in the mines, and reserving to the state the power of regulation of the price at which coal shall be sold to the consumer, allowing a reasonable profit to the operator.

Submission of a constitutional amendment allowing the state to mine coal from state coal lands "and thus become a factor in the industry as the federal government has recently become a factor in an express business through the parcel post."

The final, or eighth, recommendation is: "In my opinion, the legislature should encourage by suitable legislation the application of the principle of collective bargaining not only in coal mining but in all other industries in the state."

FARMERS ARE HOLDING

WHEAT FOR $2 BUSHEL

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Exports to end week, was the city that today sent wheat firing up almost out of sight at $1.45.

Bakers threw up their hands, declaring the battle to maintain five-cent bread was losing ground. Flour which formerly sold at retail at 70 cents a sack went today to the householder at 90 cents. The dollar sack was said to be in sight.

Five governments of Europe were reported today to be actively in the wheat market on this side of the Atlantic in addition to a larger number of individual buyers from foreign fields than ever before known. The result was figured to be exportation at the rate of 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels a week so that if continued, not a bushel of wheat may be left for export in April, May or June the three months preceding the harvest of the first of the new domestic crop.

While the wheat market was in a blaze of excitement the minority of farmers who still own wheat were said to be in many cases hanging on for $2 a bushel just twice the general ideal and normal conditions. Approximately 25 per cent of the 1914 crop is estimated by experts to be still in the hands of farmers. In general the men who have sold out their grain are the renters and those who needed the money to meet notes and to pay mortgage interest. Those who have held on are the men who can afford to wait.

The governments which are distinguished from individuals are direct purchasers in the United States are the Swiss, Greek, Italian, Dutch and French. So far the British government has done nothing as a government but Great Britain's food supply is said here to be down to a 60-day basis, and if Great Britain as a government should enter the market the result, in the opinion of Chicago experts, would be hard to foresee.

WHEAT SELLS AT $1.48 ON PORT AND EXCHANGE

PORTLAND, Ore. Jan. 14.—Twenty thousand bushels of March blue stem wheat sold on the Portland exchange today at $1.45 per bushel, an advance of 10c over yesterday and within a half cent of the record price paid for May blue stem on January 9. February blue stem advanced 4c to $1.45. March oats sold at $2.40 a ton, 50c higher than yesterday.

MICHIGAN COPPER MINES HAVE RESUMED FULL TIME

Harry Reed, Miner, Missing Since Aug. 19 Wife Asks Gazette to Help Find Husband

Fearing her husband, Harry Reed, a miner, has lost his life through an accident while prospecting in the mountains in the western part of Colorado, Mrs. Reed, who lives in Denver, has asked the aid of The Gazette in an attempt to learn what has become of him. Mrs. Reed, who is staying at 712 North Teton street, has been in Colorado Springs for several months trying to find some clue as to her husband's whereabouts.

Reed left Denver, August 19, going to Fountain, where he met a prospector from Cripple Creek. The two started into the mountains from Fountain, driving, and had planned to go about 200 miles. They took provisions for two months, Reed telling his wife he would either return or write to her within that time. He didn't expect to be near a town before. Although five months have elapsed, Mrs. Reed has heard nothing from her husband and fears he has met with an accident.

Reed, in partnership with a San Francisco man, owns a rich gold mine in Arizona. He is well known among mining men of Colorado. He is 35 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, has dark brown hair and blue eyes and is smooth shaven.
He carried a small gold watch with the initials "M. E. S." engraved on the inside of the case.

PROXY MARRIAGE WILL TAKE PLACE WEDNESDAY

Following Ceremony in Denver, Springs Girl Will Leave to Join Husband in Island of Java

Miss Eugenia Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Campbell of 737 East Boulder street, will be married by proxy to Jan Pieter Scholten at the Brown Palace hotel in Denver next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The make-believe bridegroom will be a Denver newspaper man whose name has not been announced. Immediately following the ceremony Miss Campbell will leave for San Francisco, whence she will sail to the island of Java to meet her husband, a member of an influential Dutch family and manager of an oil company in East Indies. The proxy ceremony is according to an old Dutch law, passed to encourage colonization.

Cave-in Along Creek Muddies City Water

The caving in of a bank of one of the small streams just below Lake Moraine in the city's mountain water system has caused the water—and especially that coming from the main's feeding the down town and close-in residence sections—to become slightly discolored. Mayor McKesson said last night that the supply probably would be clear within a day or so.

The cave-in occurred last week and was discovered and repaired immediately. However, the water in this stream had already been discolored.
Efforts were made to prevent it from entering the main feed lines to Colorado Springs, but failed. Likewise attempts were made to clear the water in the big pipe lines before it reached the city, but they also failed. At present workmen are busy clearing the main lines and it is thought that the

STATE SAVINGS BANK ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS

L. E. Burnett, R. S. Ellison, W. E.
Johnson, H. T. Lamey and R. E. Johnson have been elected directors of the State Savings bank, the retiring directors being J. F. Thomas, who has gone to San Diego, Cal., and A. Wright, who resigned to devote his time to private interests. The same officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, as follows: Vice president, R. S.
Ellison; cashier, Burnett, who for the last five years has been a resident of this city, is largely interested in the banking and mercantile business in southern Illinois. He also is identified with business interests in Colorado Springs and Manitou. H. T. Lamey is interested in the banking and insurance business in Denver.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN IN GOOD FINANCIAL SHAPE

The financial record of the First Presbyterian church for 1914 was highly encouraging, a total of $12,900 having been raised for general expenses according to the annual report of the treasurer. The business taken up at the annual meeting was the report of the board of trustees, treasurer's report, the election of officers. The budget for 1915 calls for $12,700.

F. A. Bissell and W. W. Williamson were elected trustees to succeed themselves and Harry Hutchinson to succeed Dr. Z. H. McMillan. L. H.
Geddy was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

SANTA FE ROAD ISSUES PICTURES OF EXPOSITION

A folder, containing pictures of the new buildings at the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco together with several views of the city, has been issued by the Santa Fe railroad ex-pany for the benefit of transcontinental travelers. They are being distributed at the local office.

CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT SEES BIG YEAR IN 1915

Plants in Greatest of Gold Camps Working Full Capacity, and Mining Men Optimistic

Business men, merchants and miners of the Cripple Creek district are enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming year, according to F. H. Faus, commercial agent for the Rock Island railroad, who returned yesterday, after a visit to the gold camp. "The recent strikes in the Cresson, Leadville and other properties has given tremendous impetus to the mining interests in that district," said Mr. Faus.

"The plants are working to full capacity and rumors of new strikes are plentiful," he said. "The tonnage output is greater than for several months, and several of the mills are adding improvements to their buildings and new ones are planned."

ORDINARY ALMANAC DIMENSIONS OUTGROWN

1915 World Almanac Holds All the Old Favorites, With Many New Features Added.

If there is anything new under the sun, the chances are that it's in The World Almanac. This is a sweeping statement. For its justification one may point with much confidence to the files of this most regular of annuals.
For particular and current instances, reference is recommended to the latest for 1915, now just at hand.

As one reads this book, the time seems very far removed. Indeed, when an almanac was merely a booklet of calendar pages, with a few remarks about the sun, the moon, a few planets, the tides, and the best time for planting various kinds of seeds. Here set forth, besides election and census returns, sporting records, industrial and financial reports, a New York city gazetteer, and the countless forms informative departments to which the years have accustomed readers of The World Almanac, are a review of the war in Europe; notes on the wars of the world; the political state platform of 1914; details of the special or emergency tax; analysis of the prison population; factory statistics; workmen's compensation laws; occupations in the United States; the federal reserve act;
the federal trade commission; statistics of foreign born population in the United States; a description of the Mexican situation; facts about the Chinese republic; the progress and plans of the Pan-American highway; a picture of the aeroplane and aviation generally in war, and too many other things to receive even a reviewer's bare mention.

Of course this book has more than a thousand pages. It outgrew ordinary dimensions long ago. It will carry its own "Happy New Year" welcome to librarians, students, professors, statesmen, editors and readers in general all over the land.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve it, and a cure is effected, every single sign and trace of it; no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

real helpful things
is an external ab-

well thought of by women that most drug stores through-

Friend" as one of their staple and reliable remedies. It is applied to the abdominal muscles to relieve the strain

In a little while are described more fully the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend indeed to women for more than two generations.
This book is a well thought out and the incorporation of it to enable as many women to have at hand the time's best

THE ITALIAN EARTHQUAKE

ONLY six years ago the Italian city of Messina suffered the direst consequences of an earthquake shock in all history. The loss of property was probably less than was caused by the San Francisco disaster, but the two cases can hardly be compared, for in the American city most of the damage was done by fire. Again, in San Francisco the loss of life was almost trivial, but in Messina and throughout Sicily it ran high into the thousands. Indeed, the devastation was so complete that recent reports from the island say there has been almost no recovery in the six years that have elapsed. The people still live in the ruins of their old dwellings and are apparently still in the same dazed mental condition that immediately followed the earthquake.

And now comes what is seemingly an even worse blow. Early reports of such widespread calamities are always inaccurate and incomplete, and there is no telling whether the later reports of 50,000 casualties are any more accurate than the earlier report of 12,000. But it is plain that Italy is suffering from one of the worst disasters of its kind in all history.

At least, though, there is a thin silver lining to the cloud. Of all nations in Europe, outside the immediate circle of principals to the quarrel which began the war, Italy seemed most likely to become involved. Before the invasion of Belgium it appeared more probable that Italy would become one of the combatants than that Belgium would be. It was a member of the Triple Alliance, and as such bound by treaty to support Germany and Austria-Hungary in a defensive war. But the Italian government wisely took the position that this was not a defensive war, but one of aggression, and refused to make common cause with its allies. Meanwhile, as a precautionary measure, its army was mobilized and has since remained ready for action, and there has not been a day in five months when the finger has lifted. Only last week the dispatches stated that the early advent of Italy into the list of belligerents seemed inevitable.

Imagine the present condition of Italy if it had gone to war! A relatively small nation, populous, but deficient in national wealth, with social and economic conditions far below those of England, Germany and France; almost its entire able-bodied male population on the battlefields, and the work of keeping the wheels moving left to women and children. Five months of such war as is now being fought in Europe probably would have depleted the resources of Italy more than those of any of its wealthier neighbors. And then imagine the effect of an earthquake such as this one being added to its calamities!

Verily, we Americans have something to be thankful for. Our trials and tribulations, whatever they may be, are trivial in comparison with the awful disasters that have befallen the entire European continent.

unrest. Russia must expand, Germany is striving for new fields, England is facing great colonial problems, China awakens, and so on down the line. Piracy probably would reappear and the countries, deprived of seeking territorial aggrandizement in foreign lands, would fight more savagely near home.

Great Britain, without a navy, would lose all her prestige and position as the first empire of the world. The present strength of the nation lies in the navy, and the navy is the connecting link between the mother country and her vast colonial possessions. Without those Great Britain would soon sink to the position of a second-rate power. Perhaps Dr. Dernburg had this in mind when he suggested the policy of navy abolition.

It all comes down to the same old answer. Universal disarmament, the elimination of navies, peace tribunals and all the rest of the peace propaganda is planned for a perfect civilization and we are still prone to turn back to the dark ages once in a while. We are drawing nearer the goal of perfection each year and the time may come when universal peace will reign. But who can imagine England, or Germany, or France, agreeing to keep their men-of-war off the high seas or ourselves for that matter?

ADVERTISE

THE plan to advertise Colorado and the Pike's Peak Region by a series of lectures delivered throughout the country by Mr. Gilbert McClurg is receiving general public support. Everybody who knows the conditions and necessities relating to publicity for this region realizes the importance of adopting better and more effective advertising methods than have been used in the past. And this conviction is so deep-seated that we believe there will not be much difficulty in securing the necessary funds.

The demands on the Chamber of Commerce for money are constant, and the worth-while projects to which it might give support are numerous. But its revenues are limited, and if actual value is to be obtained for every expenditure they must be carefully watched. We believe the desultory advertising methods, which have been followed from the beginning, and which were necessitated by the limited income, have been effective only in an extremely small degree. The better and more business-like method is to concentrate the fund on one large project, like the McClurg lecture tour, which promises definite results.

THE RABIES SCARE
To the Editor of The Gazette
First, the tuberculous exhibit, which drove many people out of the town—scared? Why not, when out own people "scientists" tried to convince them that there was death in the air, in the dust, etc? Now comes the mad dog scare—sprung upon us during the busy season and kept up by agitation, publicity to the great detriment of the city, when the Chamber of Commerce and others are doing their best.

People who have families do not understand these "scientific" gentlemen and do not take their word "cum grano salis," but believe all they are told when coming from such authority. Those families with children do not feel like subjecting them or themselves to the risk of getting into a nest of mad dogs any more so than they would subject themselves to a den of rattlesnakes. Has the epidemic of rabies been present? If not, why scare people to death and at the same time give the town advertisement certainly not desirable. "How long, oh, Lord, how long!"
Colorado Springs Jan. 14

her sailors has reddened distant seas. But British soil stood at the while unscathed behind the empire's "golden walls." A great empire has been concentrated, partly with "blood and iron." But the center and heart of this great empire has been a land of peace. Downing street and Lombard street add all the other nerve centers of British public life and industry have functioned undisturbed.

Now ends the dream of peace and the long record of security. At last the war is carried not from Britannia to other lands, but to Britannia's self. It matters not how significant or insignificant the attack on those four British ports may be from a strategic standpoint. The roar of hostile guns has been heard over the English coast and stern-viaaged war has again set foot amid the hearths and homes of "merrie England."

COLORADO MINE DIVIDENDS
From the Denver News.
The best evidence of the prosperity of any industry is the amount of dividends it is able to pay on the money invested in it, provided always that a sufficient amount of money is expended in such additions and betterments as will insure future prosperity.

Colorado metal mines in 1913 paid $3,845,934 in dividends. In 1914 they have paid $3,845,445, showing an increase of more than $2,000,000 over the record of the previous year. At the same time nearly all important metal mines in the state have spent large amounts of money this year in new machinery, new tunnels and similar betterments and extensions to insure their future success.

WHAT GOVERNMENT IS FOR
From the Milwaukee Journal
Within the last few weeks there has been a turn for the better in the business world. The first harmful effects of the world war are passing and normal conditions are beginning to reappear. Some dissatisfaction, of course, will always exist. A few days ago, for instance, something happened which illustrates the blind and selfish views which some business men hold. A Milwaukee man was damning the government because he is not making so much money as he did a few years ago. "You are a rich man," he was told, "and you still have a very large income." This made him more furious than ever. "I tell you the United States is going straight to destruction," he vehemently asserted.

A SPLENDID SCHEME
From Life
The verdict in the Stogel case contains an idea which might well be applied generally. After an exhaustive report of considerable length, which resulted in awarding away the sum of $15,000 to the court, the court decided that Stogel's imprisonment should be postponed in the hope that he could reimburse the victims.

TIME
From Colliers
Amid all the welter of talk about the new year—the pretty-pretty sentimentality that—ponderous preaching about good resolutions and swearing off—one great fact remains. That is Time. Time passed. Arcturus Ward once wrote, "It's a sort of way Time has. Here is one thing which no cynic has ever been able to deride successfully. Ideas, innocence, love, even death have been targets but no one has ever touched Time. On and on stalk the years—the most inexorable of marchers. Time treats all alike: pugilist and debaucher, king and gutter snipe. It plays no favorites. With each revolution the creeping minute hand puts one more hour behind. Perhaps it is well that no normal mind dwells on all this. It is better to realize that the marching morrows have their glorious and inspiring side. What is past is past, beyond our alteration; but the future is always just ahead, and it is ours."

NOT HARMONIOUS
From the Washington Star.

FROM OTHER PENS
SCARING ENGLAND
From the Chicago Herald
For 117 years did Great Britain live without attack at home filled, in spite of the warnings of divers authorities, with a sense of sweet security. During this time the wreck and ravage of war have come to her on the winds across the channel like echoes of a distant world. Paris, with a ring of fire, the fiery crater of Sedan, came to her not in blood and flames, but in rumors and reports. She went forth to the Crimea to war, but the land felt it not. South Africa took its toll of brave men, but laid no hand upon a rod of English ground. Napoleon went like a winged victory over western Europe, but his wings dropped down, too weak to bear him across that little stretch of water that has had so much to do with world history, and with Britain's fate.

THE DOUBLE CROSS

In these tumultuous days we hear much about the Iron cross, the Victoria cross, the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the Cross of St. Mike and other famous crosses. They are given to soldiers who have been unusually frivouls with death while dodging him on the battlefield.

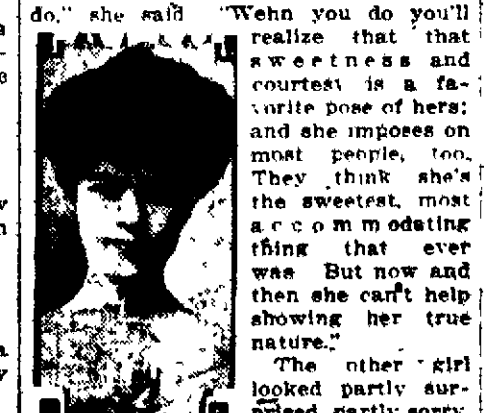

When a man has had the double cross hung on him he doesn't become proud and noble like the recipient of the Iron cross.

proceedings in this country, but the double cross is very well known. The double cross is a decoration used, generally, in times of peace. It is hung upon a victim by the man who designed it just before the said designer goes away to a safe place. The double cross is something a man doesn't want didn't expect to get and has already paid for. The earliest instance of this decoration on record was that in which Jacob after having served seven years for Rachel, got Leah palmed off on him instead.

WHAT IS "HUMAN NATURE?"

ANTITYPHOID LAKE RULES

Water transportation has not been able to meet that of the railroads in the United States. One of the reasons, though not the most important, is that steamships have not been very careful about their sanitary arrangements. Several bad epidemics of typhoid fever have been traced to infection on board ship.

The city of Toronto requires that the ships making that port shall fill their water tanks from the city water supply. Other cities are legislating along similar lines. The public health service is preparing to enforce certain requirements.

Anticipating action by the authorities, the bulletin of the Milwaukee health department says that the Erie railroad lake lines have issued the following rules:

"The health of the ship's company is fully as important as the safety of the ship and its cargo, and the supervision of the water supply will be the care of the master exclusively and cannot be delegated by him to anyone."

"Isolated sources of supply and methods of distribution have been, or will be provided, and under no circumstances will the tanks be filled from one through another. The sea cock will be kept locked and the key be in the possession of the master."

"When water is to be taken, the master will give or send, the key to the engineer on duty, who will personally see that the sea connection is thoroughly boiled out by means of the steam connection provided for the purpose for at least five minutes before opening sea cock. The engineer will also personally close and lock the sea cock and return the key to the master."

"Water tanks are to be thoroughly cleaned and scrubbed out with a strong caustic solution at least once in each month and the solution drained and flushed away through the distribution service."

"Except in case of fire, buckets or other vessels are not to be dipped into tanks, and every effort is to be made to keep them free from contamination."

"In taking water, masters will exercise due caution with regard to ships ahead and haul courses, if necessary, to clear their wake."

"Drinking cups or vessels used in common should be thoroughly boiled at frequent intervals or discarded, and the use of water buckets as containers for drinking water should be discouraged as far as possible. When used in fire holds, they should be boiled out frequently with the steam hose."

"Natural ice is not to be taken aboard under any circumstances, unless when he lays down his life for a friend, did you ever hear anyone say 'that's human nature'?"

And Love will then grant us a vision Of joy above sorrow and tears; And God will look down from his heaven.

And Time cease reaping the years—Norveys Joseph O'Connor, in Century Magazine.

PRINCETON'S HEAD DENOUNCES PAID COACHES IN SPORTS

President Hibben Believes Team Captains Should Be In Sole Control

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 14.—President John Grier Hibben of Princeton university, in his annual report to the board of trustees today, expressed the hope that paid coaches in athletics would soon disappear. Athletics are suffering from an over-organized system of coaching, he said, and he believed that more responsibility should be placed on team captains.

"If undergraduates should be released from 'unnatural domination of their sports by graduate coaches,'" he said, "intercollegiate sport would be liberated from the abnormal incubus of a superimposed system which tends to make puppets of the players."

President Hibben in the report said: "Our athletics, not only in Princeton, but throughout the country, are suffering from an over-organized system of coaching. I hope that the time may soon come when the paid coaches will disappear. He and his ever-increasing number of assistants, all of whose expenses prove a heavy drain upon the athletic treasurer and tend to keep up the rate receipts of intercollegiate contests at an abnormal figure, render intercollegiate sport an unduly expensive affair."

"Particularly in the game of football the captain of the team should be the sole responsible person for the management of his men, devising and directing their play in practice games, so that in the critical situations of a great contest he and his team will be to the occasion and win or lose with honor."

"It is quite absurd, when one comes to think of it, that the control of the team in all preliminary games should be in the hands of a body of men who are relegated to the side lines when the game is on."

"After all, it is an undergraduate affair and the game should be planned and played by undergraduates. If you place upon them the responsibility they respond to it for it is certain that responsibility always provokes efficiency. That men may be resourceful in time of emergency, they must be schooled in the art of resourcefulness by some stimulation of their latest powers of ingenuity."

"If we will release undergraduates from the unnatural domination of their sports by graduate coaches and from the confusion of many minds and voices in the direction of their activities, we will simplify the whole athletic situation and liberate intercollegiate sport from the abnormal incubus of a superimposed system which tends to make puppets of the players, limiting the spontaneity and free play of their natural initiative."

Hearing of Federal Case to Be Speedy

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Speedy determination of the injunction proceedings instituted by the Federal league to prevent organized baseball from interfering with its operations and players is expected when the case is opened here next Wednesday before Judge J. J. O'Neil in the United States district court.

Both officials of the Federal and leaders of the organization forces are based on this point. It was learned today. They expressed the opinion that the case will be decided in ample time to allow the clubs of the three leagues to start their spring training trips without any danger that a court verdict may disarrange plans for the championship season.

Releases Granted by National Board

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Chairman John H. Farrell of the national board of arbitration of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues today gave out these decisions affecting players and clubs in the United States and Canada:

Services of players awarded Wilbur Grounch to Dallas, Tex. Released by purchase.

By Atlanta Ga.—Joe Dunn to Dallas, Texas.

By Scranton, Pa.—McMurray to Fort Worth, Tex.

By Portsmouth, O.—Edwards to San Francisco and Francisco to San Antonio, Texas.

By St. Joseph, Mo.—Purcell to Waco, Tex.

By Regina, Sask.—T. H. Herriott to Fort Worth, and James Ryan to Kansas City, Mo.

By Fort Worth, Tex.—Eberline to Regina, Sask.

By McAlester, Okla.—Tom Weeks to Fort Worth, Tex.

Western Will Play 154-Game Schedule

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The Western league will play a 154-game schedule in 1915, instead of one of 161 games, it was announced today by President O'Neil. The season will start April 23 and close September 19.

President O'Neil issued a call for a schedule meeting of the league here February 7. The Omaha Lincoln and St. Joseph clubs were appointed a committee to draw up tentative schedules.

Hobey Baker, Greatest Hockey Player

Canadian hockey players and experts declare that Hobey Baker, the former Princeton university athlete who is now a member of the St. Nicholas skating club team in the American Amateur Hockey league, is the greatest hockey player that ever cleft the ice with a steel blade. The men from the north make no exception in expressing this remarkable opinion. It goes for them all, amateur and professional.

Baker has already beaten, single handed, two of the fastest amateur teams in Canada this winter. On December 25, against Toronto university, the former Tiger star, playing at rover on the St. Nicholas seven, secured five goals unassisted and carried the puck up the ice for the other two successful attacks against the Toronto goal. The score was seven to six in favor of St. Nicholas. On January 2, playing against the Montreal Victorias, Baker gave the most wonderful exhibition of hockey playing ever seen in the United States. With practically the whole Canadian team united in their endeavor to put him out of the game, Baker electrified the crowd by skating rings around the last Canadian—fairly standing them on their heads. He was finally cut with a skate and had to retire two minutes before the end of the game.

Every Major Magnate to Tell O. B.'s Side

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Every club owner in the American and National leagues, the presidents of the leagues and some minor league magnates will file affidavits giving the side of organized baseball in the Federal league's antitrust suit next week. It was said today.

Ball players themselves will not be asked to testify on the side of organized baseball.

Dooin Will Sign With Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—The affidavit of President Lamm of the Boston American league club, William B. Baker, president of the Philadelphia Nationals and Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is being used in connection with the Federal league suit against organized baseball, were taken here today by George Wharton Pepper, counsel for the National league.

Motorcycle Economy Record

An interesting record was kept by C. K. Vliet of New York city of the cost of operating his motorcycle during the past season. During the season Vliet traveled 3,199 miles. His total gasoline consumption was 66.5 gallons, costing $10.94. He used 2.25 gallons of oil at a cost of $2.40, making a total cost for fuel of $13.34. His repair bill for the year amounted to $2.25. This makes Vliet's total expense for the 3,199 miles $15.59, or at an average cost of less than 5 cents per mile.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The tone of today's stock market ranged from irregular to firm, with a total output of moderate proportions. Representative shares rose and fell alternately, and the only notable exceptions being Baltimore & Ohio common and preferred and New York Central, which rose from one to over two points.

Coppers, American Smelting and a few less active specialties such as People's Gas, American Tobacco and United States Rubber advanced a point or more on small dealings and motor stocks were in evidence at higher prices. Decline again in the "Soo" issues as well as Colorado Fuel, Rumely preferred and International Harvester corporation preferred.

The only real activity of the session occurred in the final hour, at which time the directors of the Baltimore & Ohio road were deliberating on the common dividend. Fears of a drastic cut caused a sudden slump in that stock as well as the balance of the speculative list. When just before the close it became known that the semi-annual dividend had been reduced only one-half of one per cent, the market recovered. Realizing for profits caused some reactions at the end but the close was steady.

Other news of the day included a new high price for May wheat, with an unusually urgent export demand, completion of the financing attending the St. Paul bond issue and the new Russian loan, both of which are to be offered publicly in the near future. Local bankers also had under consideration several out-of-town municipal loans, which are to take the places of maturing obligations.

Monetary conditions showed a preponderance of cash over demand with resultant greater ease in three and four months loans. Call money again went to its lowest rate of several months and mercantile paper of the higher class was accepted by financial institutions at rates more advantageous to borrowers.

High grade bonds more than maintained their recent gains but obscure issues were again reactionary. Total sales par value amounted to $2,072,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

GUGAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Sugar futures market was easier during the morning session under a scattered realising, prompted by more favorable weather conditions in Cuba which may lead to increased output of raw sugar at noon was 5 lower to 1 higher with sales of 460 tons. The spot market was easier with sales of 2,000 bags of Cuban for January and February shipment. Molasses $2.27, centrifugal $4.94, refined steady.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Wheat jumped today to a point virtually 10 cents a bushel higher than on Monday, last, when speculators were tumbling over each other to sell out because of wild talk that the Turks were yielding control of the Dardanelles and that hostilities by Italy implied a speedy end to the war. At the summit, May wheat brought today $1.44 1/4, a price not equaled before in years. The chief reason was that exporters wanted more wheat than they could buy in all American markets. Feeling was much unsettled at the close, which varied from the same as last night to $2 1/4 above. Corn finished unchanged to a sixteenth up, oats at a gain of 1/4 to 1/2 and provisions down 5c to 12 1/2c.

European needs became so acute today that, finding no wheat available for green shipment was left in Chicago, exporters bought considerable quantities of flour here although bakeries have been threatening to stop for lack of supplies. Reports that the depletion of wheat stocks on the Pacific coast had led to sharp competition from there on this side of the Rockies helped to give the bulls almost complete away over prices.

Excitement in the wheat pit fairly boiled over in the last hour when rye, a substitute for wheat, was chalked up on the bulletin boards as commanding $1.75 a bushel, a price beyond anything known in 10 years. According to some authorities, the only relief in sight for Europeans or Americans either was to give up hope in regard to wheat and to rely on the relative cheapness of corn.

Piling up of corn here and at other leading centers kept the cereal depressed today despite the strength of wheat. The prospects were said to be for continued liberal receipts.

Oats proved firmer than corn, owing to buying on the part of export houses. More than 400,000 bushels of oats were sold here to go to the seaboard in addition to 175,000 bushels domestic. Lower prices for hogs pulled down provisions. For a while it seemed to be a bargain counter day as to pork, lard and ribs.
